

Divio secures new contract worth SEK 250,000 with Swiss Healthcare Company

Tuesday, Sep 22, 2026

Divio Technologies has signed a new service contract with a major Swiss Healthcare Company. The contract, valued at CHF 21,000 (approximately SEK 250,000), is in addition to the SEK 700,000 contract announced earlier this month and the extensions and expansions announced in November and December 2025. These services, which are expected to carry a gross margin of approximately 50% for Divio, are scheduled to be delivered during the fourth quarter of 2026.

"This contract is further evidence of an expanding relationship with this key client," says Jon Levin, CEO of Divio. "Each new engagement builds on the previous ones, and we see clear potential to continue growing the scope of what we deliver together."
