

Truecaller Brings Partner Services Into Premium Starting in Latin America

Stockholm, October 6, 2026: Truecaller, the leading global platform for verifying contacts and blocking unwanted communication, today announced the extension of its Premium partnership strategy with the launch of major partner services now bundled into the Truecaller Premium plans. Premium subscribers in 17 Latin American countries can now claim discounts from partners directly in the Truecaller app.

Most of the partners focus on safety, in the digital world and in the real one. Premium already gives subscribers real-time detection of fraud and spam, automatic blocking of nuisance calls and suspicious messages, an ad-free app, and the Premium badge. The partner extends that protection to device security, identity protection, personal safety, secure storage, and mental wellbeing.

This is the first step in Truecaller's plan to bring partner services into Premium, starting with one of its largest regions. The offers in Latin America are delivered through Cykadas, Truecaller's commercial partner in the region, and Truecaller plans many more localised partnerships of this kind in markets across the globe. Premium subscriber numbers have grown steadily, with subscribers up 33 % during the last year.

"Our Premium subscribers already trust us to keep their calls and messages safe. With Exclusive Offers, we bring that same idea to the rest of their digital life, with partners who share our focus on safety," says Xavier Trouvé, VP Product Premium at Truecaller. "Latin America is the start. We'll add more markets and more partners over the coming months."

Premium subscribers on Android find the new section in the Premium tab. Depending on their Premium subscription, Truecaller subscribers access up to a 60% discount on the partner plans. The Offers are personal, for non-commercial use, and each can be redeemed once per subscriber. Offers and partner selection may vary by market and plan.
