Investor news no. 2/2026: Municipality on Zealand has bought Dataproces' MARS platform

Dataproces has entered a contract with a municipality on Zealand for the use of our SaaS solution MARS Flytteoversigt.

MARS is Dataproces' SaaS platform for digital support of the municipalities' administration of inter-municipal payments and reimbursements. The solution consolidates data from different municipal professional systems into one unified platform and creates a full overview of who has to pay what – and when.

The platform automates large parts of the manual workflows that are traditionally associated with inter-municipal settlements. This means that employees no longer have to deal with complex spreadsheets, follow-ups and data checks manually. Instead, MARS employs data-driven validation, quality assurance, and automated workflows
